William F.Sims came to Constine Bridge on foot in 1793; removed to New Woodstock,N.Y.in 1795. His brothers, Joseph and Horatio came to Cazenovia in 1798.

see pg.13 of "History of New Woodstock,New York."
"Joseph & Horatio Sims left Conn.in the winter of 1798- Joseph settled in the town of Nelson,Madison Co.,N.Y.- Horatio,in the town of Cazenovia, "

"William Sims and his brothers not taking kindly to their step-mother,Mary White,who survived her husband, and died at the age of 96 yrs.,-William emigrated on foot to the then far west in the spring of 1792 and located near Constine Bridge in the town of Cazenovia, Madison County,N.Y.,paying John Lincklaen $1.50 per acre for land which was all forest and abounded with deer and bears. He built a log house and returned on foot to Conn.in the fall,returning the following spring with his wife,in an oxcart. Mr.Sims lived on this farm until his death in 1864,ae.95. Many times I remember of sitting by his brick fireplace and listened to stories of early life in the great forests. The Indians sleeping in his log house with their blankets spread upon the floor. Many a good meal I have eaten that was prepared by grandmother over that fire-place, they having no stove. Grandfather never returned to Andover after bringing his wife to Madison County."

" William Sims undoubtedly was one of the first ten men who built a log house and kept "Batchelor hall" the first summer (1793). He cut a basswood tree and took off a section of bark which he laid across the log beams of his house and with a small bundle of hemlock boughs for a pillow,it constituted his sleeping apartment until he brought his family,the next year".
